

TriTech Software Systems Acquires The Omega Group from Trimble

Acquisition adds leading crime analysis software to TriTech's portfolio to provide public safety agencies of all sizes with an integrated tool that will help achieve compelling crime-reduction strategies.

SAN DIEGO, CA (February 29, 2016) – TriTech is excited to announce the acquisition of The Omega Group from Trimble. Combining market leaders in Public Safety Software and GIS Crime and Fire Analysis, the capabilities of TriTech's solutions advance to levels that are unmatched in the industry.

Key Facts:

- The leader in GIS-based crime and fire analysis, The Omega Group has been providing some of the most advanced analytical tools to more than 500 public sector clients since 1992.
- TriTech delivers Public Safety software to more than 3000 agency installations serving over 255 million citizens across 14 countries.
- Officers will be able to leverage TriTech's mobility solutions and The Omega Group's crime analysis applications to view from their mobile device—MDT, smartphone, or tablet—where crime is likely to occur for a more informed and directed patrol strategy.

Supporting Quotes:

Tony Eales, President and CEO, TriTech Software Systems

"The need for effective crime analysis and reduction strategies is urgent, and supporting the mission of our customers in officer and citizen safety drives our business. TriTech is proud to help lead the integration of crime analysis and field operations with the addition of the outstanding products and people from The Omega Group."

Scott MacDonald, Vice President of Product Management, TriTech Software Systems

"TriTech is bringing together the technology used today for emergency response with the analytical tools used to help reduce crime. This provides field supervisors and front-line patrol officers with the insight to take immediate, predictive action in specific geographic areas based on historic patterns and risk assessments."

Milan Mueller, Founder and Former CEO of The Omega Group

"Public safety agencies continue to face challenges well beyond just fighting crime or responding to emergencies. With TriTech's reach and market presence, we are excited that The Omega Group's GIS-based analytic solutions will be made accessible to a wider range of law enforcement and fire agencies."
