PRESS RELEASE – Homeland Security/Regional Solutions

ARJIS Releases CrimeMAPS

On July 17, 2006, ARJIS (Automated Regional Justice Information System) released Crime MAPS. This Web-based crime incident mapping and reporting application created by The Omega Group will allow anyone access to arrest, crime and citation information in their area. Crime MAPS covers multiple jurisdictions and can be searched by a variety of locations within the entire county. The Omega Group is proud to have contributed to overall public safety in San Diego.

Over two years of work and coordination between twenty different law enforcement agencies within San Diego County produced a public access crime mapping site that received over three million hits within the first forty-eight hours of going live. "This new and improved service will allow San Diego residents to get information crime near their homes, schools or when looking to move to another neighborhood, while providing law enforcement with a regional approach to fighting crime," San Diego County District Attorney Bonnie M. Dumanis said.
